BollySwar is a decade-wise compendium of information about the music of Hindi films. Volume 8 chronicles the Hindi film music of the decade between 2001 and 2010. This volume catalogues more than 1000 films and 8000 songs, involving more than 2000 music directors, lyricists and singers. An overview of the decade highlights the key artists of the decade - music directors, lyricists and singers - and discusses the emerging trends in Hindi film music. A yearly review provides listings of the year's top artists and songs and describes the key milestones of the year in Hindi film music. The bulk of the book provides the song listing of every Hindi film album released in the decade. Basic information about each film's cast and crew is provided and detailed music credits are provided. Where available, music credits go beyond information regarding music directors, lyricists and singers, and include the names of session musicians, assistants, programmers, arrangers, mixers, recordists, etc. Where applicable, music related awards are listed. Interesting trivia is listed for most films, more than 1500 in all. This includes information about artist debuts, plagiarised or sampled songs, controversies and stories behind the making of the film and its music. This book is primarily meant as a quick reference for people looking for information related to a Hindi film or a song, but readers can also browse through the book to get an overview of the events that shaped Bollywood music in the decade. Given that Hindi films are a reflection of the Indian society, the reader can also glean insights about the country's socio-political and cultural environment from the book.

Being very much part of this material world , i find solace , comfort , peace with God. this book is about prayers ,Prayer is communicating with God as you would with a friend, parent , partner or with a sibling.God doesn't require us to come to Him with large words or fancy language. He longs to hear what our heart desires, our worries and what we're thankful for. The best part of building a bond with god is absence of judgment.. you can be yourself ..nothing is hidden from him.. he knows exactly how you are feeling .. when no body understands . He knows the causes, the reasons, the things that brought you to this point. He understands because he made you, and he sees the hurt in your heart like nobody else can. No human being has this ability "And whatever you ask in prayer, you will receive, if you have faith. for all my worldly needs I only pray to God because asking from humans only brings disappointment, but praying to God gets my material and worldly desires fulfilled. I got connected to guru Nanak Dev ji , through my grandmother (dadi ma) . It was my daily evening ritual during my teenage days to go to my grandmother while she was doing paath . It was through Gurbani and katha , I understood the preaching of Gurunank dev ji and power of Ardas (prayers).Just as dirt is washed by soap , in the same way man's evil thoughts may be washed by prayer and meditation . Sinners have turned into saints through prayer. God is the helper of the helpless , the strength of the weak , the supporter of the fallen . As a human being We all make mistakes, we all slip up and make mistakes and that too on a daily basis. But no matter the storms you are facing , no matter your past God loves you and his love is perfect.I am writing this book while going through my toughest phase of life .. through this book I am encouraging my self and hoping to encourage millions of people to not loose patience and hope . While we may not like the hard circumstances we are stuck in we can have hope. A day will come when there will be no more tears and no more pain . It's a small nudge to have faith in power of prayers and God . God answers our prayer in four ways:- the first is "Yes". We ask for something; we pray to God, and he says, "Yes, my child. Here it is; I give you what you asked for." The second is "No". For a good reason God tells us, "No my child, I will not grant your prayer." The third is "Wait". It is as if God tells us that the time is not right for us to receive what we want. So, he tells us, "Wait. The time is not yet." The fourth is, "Here is something better." We have asked for one thing, but he grants us something else and says, "Here is something different, something better that I want to give you." So keep praying,because He hears you. God's listening right now, and He'll still be listening tomorrow. . "One of the main reasons that we lose our enthusiasm is because we become ungrateful, we let what was once a miracle become common to us." "When God is our strength, we begin to not only see miracles in the lives of others, but in our lives as well." E'yen A Gardner, Chosen One. Sending my love, light and healing energy through this book .

In this book, film scholars, anthropologists, and critics discuss star-making in the contemporary Hindi-language film industry in India, also known as "Bollywood." Drawing on theories of stardom, globalization, transnationalism, gender, and new media studies, the chapters explore contemporary Hindi film celebrity. With the rise of social media and India's increased engagement in the global economy, Hindi film stars are forging their identities not just through their on-screen images and magazine and advertising appearances, but also through an array of media platforms, product endorsements, setting fashion trends, and involvement in social causes. Focusing on some of the best-known Indian stars since the late 1990s, the book discusses the multiplying avenues for forging a star identity, the strategies industry outsiders adopt to become stars, and the contradictions and conflicts that such star-making produces. It addresses questions such as: What traits of contemporary stars have contributed most to longevity and success in the industry? How has filmmaking technology and practice altered the nature of stardom? How has the manufacture of celebrity altered with the recent appearance of commodity culture in India and the rise of a hyper-connected global economy? By doing so, it describes a distinct moment in India and in the world in which stars and stardom are drawn more closely than ever into the vital events of global culture. Hindi films and their stars are part of the national and global entertainment circuits that are bigger and more competitive than ever. As such, this is a timely book creates opportunities for examining stardom in other industries and provides fruitful cross-cultural perspectives on star identities today. This book is a passionate rendezvous with cinema, the most collaborative of art forms. The essays here explore the possibilities offered by a close reading of cinema that keeps cultural contexts and their socio-historical roots firmly in sight. This collection does not consider the "frame", that oft-referenced basic unit of vision in films, as a limiting structure. Rather, it brings into purview what is left out. Divided into three sections, the essays look firstly at Indian cinema, both Bollywood and regional films, tracing the journey of Indian cinema from the periphery to the center. The second section focuses on Adaptation Studies and takes an unorthodox look at classic adaptations of literature. The final section is a reappraisal of directors like Alfred Hitchcock and Stanley Kubrick. The essays propose that, even though the film as an artwork does not change fundamentally over time, it still strikes a contemporary critical gaze differently.

Filming the Gods examines the role and depiction of religion in Indian cinema, showing that the relationship between the modern and the traditional in contemporary India is not exotic, but part of everyday life. Concentrating mainly on the Hindi cinema of Mumbai, Bollywood, it also discusses India's other cinemas. Rachel Dwyer's lively discussion encompasses the mythological genre which continues India's long tradition of retelling Hindu myths and legends, drawing on sources such as the national epics of the Mahabharata and the Ramayana; the devotional genre, which flourished at the height of the nationalist movement in the 1930s and 40s; and the films made in Bombay that depict India's Islamicate culture, including the historical, the courtesan film and the 'Muslim social' genre. Filming the Gods also examines the presence of the religious across other genres and how cinema represents religious communities and their beliefs and practices. It draws on interviews with film stars, directors and producers as well as popular fiction, fan magazines and the films themselves. As a result, Filming the Gods is a both a guide to the study of film in religious culture as well as a historical overview of Indian religious film.
